From the Editor's Desk

Hello Readers!

So, here we are again on the doorsill of another session, full of hopefulness about the days to come. One cannot predict but wonder what new thought or idea will define the session we are stepping into. Among the different Global Challenges like Agriculture and Food Security, Gender Parity, Environment and Natural Resource Security, etc. to name a few while locally we had Swachhata mission which became a buzzword, all had put a mark on our collective consciousness that defines the session. Rolling through the days in and out one can say that there had been a lot of progress in people's thinking countering these Global Challenges with success.

Well, we hope that the new session will overcome the negative implication of words like corruption, intolerance, global warming, etc and find for itself a positive and optimistic word that will define beautiful teacher- student relationship and the imparting of education in an amicable way.

We have allowed our students the freedom of speech, to express themselves unimpeded and unfastened, which resulted in an explosion of creativity.

Finally, the editorial team wants to say thanks to the Management and Principal Madam for their encouragement and ample support in our endeavour. Hope, our rolling stone would inspire the leaders to walk ahead towards their goal.

Thank you

Cheerfulness, searching rays of sunlight

Cheerfulness is a quality that I like. She one who possesses it becomes a magnet of goodwill. I strive to attain some extent of this quality.

Cheerfulness comes from a sense of well being and contentment. It is an elevated quality, but it does not always stay with me. Many circumstances and events come and steal my happiness and joy. I make mistakes; I worry, become agitated and sorrowful. Thoughts of envy and jealousy, anger and hearted enter the mind, and my cheerfulness vanishes. To find cheerfulness and inner contentment, all I do is focusing on the good qualities, I see in others, leaving the bad qualities.

Thoughts are the source of my actions. When I focus on the good qualities, my thoughts will be pure and my actions will be elevated, bringing with them the result of great joy, contentment, happiness and a face of cheerfulness.

Times: what we do today, determines where we will stand tomorrow and the person who makes the best use of Time today, gets the best of life in the future.

Time creates kings as well as beggars also.

Identity: Our authenticity is our unique point of difference in the sea of people. It does not stem from religion, culture, gender or nationality because these are external references. It stems from within us and is a reflection of the enormous imagination of creation. No one was like you, is like you or will ever be like you.

Kindness : Kindness is a language that the deaf can hear and the blind can see.

DICTION OF LIFE

Life, according to many thinkers, is just like a flowing river. It has its own ups and downs to confront and its own well decorated platform to perform its talent. In the course of life a child has to confront various social changes and every time he has to familiar with the words 'This very generation.' The people with their frown eyebrows point out the changes found in their behaviour, speaking desperately, involving in arguments, surfing internet of so called idea. But have we, the elders, ever thought of its possible reasons? If we notice their thoughts and actions, then we will reveal the actual facts which may take us to such a corner from where we would be able to see everything from a different angle. May be we are going to find a small life saving stream which we could not see till now because of the big stones of so called idea in front of us.

A child is like a small plant with small folded leaves that waits to unfold its leaves in the presence of sunlight air and water. They are happy with Colour boxes and Tiffin boxes. Then their appearance changes gradually. They get their own body with a new form which rises up many questions in their mind. Sometimes they are ordered not to ask questions like children and sometimes they are ordered not to behave like adults. They become confused whether they are children or adults. Many times they are asked "What is your aim in life?" They really become confused to give a single answer since it is their learning age and almost all the subjects are equally interesting for them. With all the curiosity and hope they look in their parents' eyes which perhaps insist them to think big and to do big. Among all these big thoughts sometimes their childhood innocence gets hurt and at this crucial time all they want is the strong support. They cry from the deep core of their heart that their parents, teachers and elders would extend their hands to support to provide them enough courage and enthusiasm that would strengthen their way on which they can walk comfortably but again they stumble over a rocky island all alone.

If they get encouragement in a correct way they transform themselves into good human beings. They search for a role model whom they can follow with their utmost effort. This is a narrow path to walk. Once a wrong hand (wrong provocation) hold them, they may never reach the broad way (health society). So, their parents, teachers and elders have to be very careful in displaying their actions because, sometimes their actions are not harmonized with their thoughts. Sometimes the elders treat with the elderly persons in an arrogant way or sometimes they exhibit selfishness which brings an impact over the children. Either they imitate these or they become rebel. In both the cases, they burst out with their utmost effort then their behaviour is easily entitled as misbehaviour. Elders call it 'generation gap.'

Elders are to take the great role to set up the bridge that would connect the good old practices with the new world where children will start a day by touching the feet of elders and ends with a grand dinner sitting together in a single dinner table. Internet is an important part of modern technology and so it attracts the young minds much. It provides enough information and guidance about the contemporary world but at the same time it can make young mind diverted from the regular thorough book reading and outdoor games unless and until they get good guidelines. Even elders are confused to define 'Modernity' in true sense. Even they are afraid to declare children as intelligent as their minds are continuously haunted by the modern technology which open up such stones so easily that may harm the young minds. This is the very junction from where we elders can take a train to keep ourselves aside. But how can we move aside leaving our children at the junction all alone with a mindful of curiosities? The elders and the parents need to hold their children's hands tightly and mind with understanding. Once Kaviguru Rabindranath Tagore told us that we should not blindly follow culture of the other people. It needs clarity. It affects human mind immensely but 'now' is the time when almost every child is carrying one mobile phone and involving themselves in social networking sites and virtual mind games.

Yes, perhaps they are becoming well trained but definitely they would be well educated when they would get a proper guidance in the form of role model. Vaccinating anti polio through anti polio campaign has almost freed polio from India. Can't we arrange Anti-Demoralizing camps to free our children from De-Moralizing the factors? Then only our children would get pure air to inhale and pure idea to identify 'what is wrong and what is right.' Hence, the children will surely empower the modern technology such as AI in a positive way.

Elders including parents and teachers are the resource persons to feed their children that 'Amrit' which will definitely nourish the children in such a way that one day they would touch the sky with happiness and their roots would strengthen the earth where other saplings can grow up fearlessly. Modern age is 'busy age' but we must not forget that with lots of small grips are necessary to reach the peak. (One faster and bigger step can cause a great fall in our lives) And these small grips are consisted of Respect, Love, Affection, Sympathy, Consideration and Good Manners. Once these qualities enter one's life, his life story will definitely echo in other's heart and the whole society as well as the whole country will wake up with a new hope and sleep tension free. Once this human revolution takes place we will definitely identify the blue planet as our home and all the people are our family members. Once this transformation takes place, child would become positive minded and they would fill their family neighbourhood, country and even the whole world with the light of positivity.

Peace and Harmony

We the human beings need to live and communicate with one another constantly on a day-to-day basis. Hence, our quality of life depends on the relationship. It is therefore important fact of our lives and this ability to be in peace with others contributes to harmony.

India as a nation has proved herself to be different from others, for she has promoted secularity and equality among citizens. India is an amalgamation of various cultures people of different caste, creed ethnicity and culture have existed parallel within the country.

Communal disharmony and turmoil had grappled our nation many times in the past, but with sheer dignity, we “Indians” came together and confronted these obstacles united by.

This is a testimony to the fact that peace and nation’s survival. When your determination changes , everything else will begin to move in the direction you desire. The moment you resolve to be victorious, every nerve and fibre in your being will immediately orient itself towards your success. On the other hand, if you “this is never going to work out” then at that instant every cell in your being will be deflated and give up the fight and then everything really will move in the direction of failure.

We must live with vibrant hope. Nothing is stronger than hope. Happiness belongs to those who never despair no matter what happens.

To make a harmonized family we need to care for every member of it likewise, if we like to make a harmonized society we at first grow our respect and affection for all the people around us, no matter which God they worship or what food they eat. We must grow acceptance more than tolerance.

An Experience with Mind Wars

I am going to share my experience about Mind Wars quiz competition. I came to know about it from my school. I registered in it from the Zee 5 app with our school code. In the Mind wars section there were different topics like G.K, School subjects, Current Affairs and Topics out of the school syllabus. As I started doing them my interest grew and I always at least once a day do some topics. For every correct answer we are given some points, in the month of June 2019 I was able to secure more than 10,000 points. So, in that month I held rank of school champions. So, all in all it was quite a good experience. They also sent me a certificate and a prize, but the amount of knowledge and experience mattered more to me.

I want to share my experience on the platform of Mind Wars as it was a totally new and knowledgeable experience for me. I was informed about this platform through my school teacher. My teacher gave me a coupon with a school code on it, the same day I logged into Mind wars and started using it thrice a week. It was very surprising for me as there were numerous topics to give quiz on. There were subject sections according to class, current affairs and many more to do. I didn't have much time to attend the entire quizzes so; at least I tried the daily quiz every day. After learning, loosing, getting closer I won holding 1 st rank in daily quiz among 2 lakhs+ users. I received a certificate and prize in my school. It was a moment of pride for me. I thank Mind wars for helping students to achieve rewards and get their interest in quiz so that they can learn and win.

How the Cuckoo turned black

Long ago cuckoo were white in colour. The cuckoo's had beautiful colour and also had sweet noise which made then the best bird in the jungle. But one day a cuckoo named twinkle thought that, " I have so good noise but the colour of my body is not good." Thinking this Twinkle went to Bozo, the wizard. Bozo's house was a cottage with yellow walls, a red roof, some windows and a wooden door. He knocked the door and Bozo came out. He wore big glasses, a blue coat, a pant and a purple wizard hat. He said "what is it dear bellow?" Twinkle

“I want to change my colour, can you help me please?” Bozo said “But you have such a good colour, why do you want to change it?” Twinkle said “But swans also have white colour, so I don't want to be like them!” Bozo said “very well then, follow me,” saying this he led Twinkle to a room. The room was filled with pots which had different colours in them. Bozo said “you can difr yourself in any colour, but only three times,” saying this he left the room. Twinkle thought “what colour should I be?” then he told himself that “I will become yellow like a canary,” saying this he differ himself in the hot with yellow colour. But he thought that “This not a good colour, and there are many yellow birds in the jungle.” After that he told himself “I will be red like a Red crossbill.” So, he diffed himself into the pot I with red colour but he felt that it did not suit him. So, he said “I will be blue like a Blue bird.” Saying this diffed himself in the pot with blue colour. But the three colours mixed together and became black. Twinkle tried to wash the colour off. But it stuck to his body. Twinkle was sad. After that day Twinkle did not came out but sang his beautiful songs by hiding in the leaves of tress. From that day every cuckoo were born black and stayed hidden and sang songs.

SUCH A BRAVE ACT

-by Gayatri Dey(class 9)

“Such a beautiful award for bravery”! The child exclaimed but Zafir looked too much worried and unhappy. He began recalling the past...

“I’m going to the bathroom dear”. You silently play game. “Yes! Mamma”. The women said to her child Zafir. He was just 6 years old. His father had left them 2 years ago because of his mother and father’s regular fighting. He and his pregnant mother lived together. They had a small shop. They lived in a rented house. They were very poor. As he was sitting on his small bed, suddenly a bullet was hit his window and broke into pieces. He got very frightened and started screaming, “Ma, Ma”. Mother was shocked to see the bullet. She peeped from the window and saw some people were shooting at houses throwing bombs. Mother got very frightened. She picked her son at her back and rushed from house. She couldn’t understand what was happening. Suddenly she saw some black flags of terrorist. She got to know that it is a big terrorist attack. She rushed and was continuously running. Her stomach was paining a lot. She saw some children hiding behind wall. She helped them and took along with her. She got a hospital far away from her house, but that hospital was almost destroyed by the terrorist and there was no one. She took the children into the hospital although she was afraid but they did not give up. She got some food but it was less in amount but then also she divided it among the children but she got nothing to feed herself and her unborn baby. She was helpless at that time. Suddenly she got a nurse and asked the nurse about the other nurses. She told that they were captured by the terrorist and some of the nurses who protested were killed.” But if we had a mobile phone then we could call the police headquarters and ask for their help”, the women said to the nurse. Suddenly her son told, “Mamma! There’s a phone under the table. They managed to take the phone which was still working when its owner died and his dead body was lying below it. Then in few hours the force arrived . They started defending them. A surprising thing happened then. They saw one of the mask- men shot other four men. When the man opened his mask he saw that it was his father who had left them 2 years ago. Zafir was very shocked as he saw tears in his father’s eyes. Zafir was so much surprised that he couldn’t move or say a word. Suddenly a sound of bullet came and his dad fell in front of him. Both the mother and the boy cried a lot but never told this story to anyone in later life. The mother received the award for her bravery in army but she had never showed it to anyone for the rest of her life.

SOME NEWLY VISIBLE STARS TO ILLUMINATE OUR WAY

Shweta Bansal

She is a woman who showed her unshaken trust on self-confidence. She was sustained a spinal injury in a car accident when she was six. It left her orthopedically disabled. But with the support of family friends and teachers, she took her schooling at La Martiniere School in Lucknow. She appeared civil service examination in 2012 and due to her good ranking she was eligible for IFS but could not achieve the post because of her disabilities. Chastising the central government for making Shweta's future contingent upon a stroke of luck or misfortune, the daily high court in accordance with the persons with disabilities (equal opportunities protection of rights and full participation) act 1995, directed the government to issue her a selection letter. Her life struggle reminds me the great words of Swami Vivekananda "Arise, awake and stop not to till the goal is achieved."

She delivered a talk titled "What do you want to be now" in New York, November, 2015. She believes success comes from wanting happiness. At the age of eight years old she wrote a book 'Simran's Diary' that is now available on Amazon online.

Her words of inspiration touched my heart so well that now I realize the actual meaning of Leo Tolstoy's words – the two most powerful worries are patience and time. The soul meaning of life is to serve humanity. We also should not wait for the time of adulthood. We can bring out our inner potentiality at present in such way so that it would be beneficial for the society because 'Now is the best time.'

MOBILE FEVER

By Mohar Bakshi

(class 9c)

Nowadays it is a customary scenario that every youngster has mobile phone in their hands. Some has their own mobile phone and some children are using parent's phone. And mobile means smartphone with internet connection.

There are many video games available on internet which grows addiction for the children. Comparable Pub-G, Blue Whale, Mobile Legends, Free fire, Momo and many more are there. They influence children even to commit suicide. Children involve themselves totally with the gaming world. They don't even think about the world which they really need to know. Then social media like Instagram, Facebook, WhatsApp and so on are also destroying the mind of students. Many people get attracted by wrong vibes. The videos which hinder the social value or spread some inappropriate messages spoil children. Then the immature children take wrong decision which can ruin their lives. Another attraction on mobile today is Tik-Tok.

There are many good sides of mobile phone also. Many movies are there which can deliver motivation or social values. Nowadays there are music band which are giving inspiration to millions of youngsters to come out and spreading message of love through their music. Additionally sitting at one corner of the room we can get information about the whole world through these mobiles.

Ultimately suffrage and benefit depends on the usage or the way we are expecting things. Youngsters must discuss with the elders about the use of mobile phones.

AMAZON FOREST FIRE: A TERRIBLE ALARM

-Soumyadip Paul (Class IX C)

Our world is beautiful because beautiful because of its creatures, greeneries, water bodies. These are the things that differ the planet earth from the other planets of the solar system. All the creatures are born in the lap of nature and so we call it mother nature but the human beings have forgotten to be faithful to their mother nature. Instead they are taking it to be granted resource provider and this mentality has turned human beings into exploiter and profit lover more than the protectors of the mother earth. A very recent incident that broke out as a result of exploitation is Amazon forest fire.

The main causes behind the forest fire are – firstly practicing of Slash and burning method of farming which actually resulted in the disappearing of forest as well as many animals. Secondly due to infrastructure development which means building of industries, factories etc. has resulted much deforestation and chemical wastes are affecting water bodies and land. Thirdly the roads had been constructed in such a way that it choked most of the main rivers. All these are the causes of this terrible disaster. The amazon which used to provide 20% oxygen to whole world, hence, got such misfortune and the whole world have become victim of it.

An alarm of terror is ringing before us as we see the burning of animals and trees. No more forest fire we need in future. It is a high time to stop playing the game of profit that causes the destruction of nature. It would be better for human beings to be less modern so that we can conserve our resources by not harming the nature. Otherwise one day will surely come when the earth will turn into another lifeless planet. Let us think together, walk together and let be conserver nor the destroyer.

Save environment

Prantik Basak (Class:- V A)

Environment refers to the places that surround us. Trees , waterbodies e.t.c . are the part of it. A tree has life but it cannot talk, work, move, response like humans. Tree gives us many things like wood, rubber, gum and many more but what do we do with them? Cutting the tree, tearing it leaves and making our houses beautiful by using wooden furniture.

But what about the hot environment? Won't we think about planting trees around us? Now I would like to explain about water. Water is too essential in our life because without water we cannot do anything. How many of us make an attempt to stop wasting water knowingly or by unknowingly???? Honestly how many of take the responsibility closing the tap which was kept open allowing water to flow uselessly. Now in Chennai, Delhi people are suffering from ' Water Crisis'. They need to BUY water!!!! Atleast I can consider lucky to not encounter such problem yet. It may happen that one day will come when there will be no water on the earth. That gives me a GOOSEBUMP!!!! Its a high time therefore that we must make attempt to Save Water, Save Tree, Save Life.

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

World Environment Day is celebrated worldwide on 5th of June every year. The world environment day is run by the United Nation Environment Programme (UNEP) since the year 1973. The main purpose of celebrating this day is to spread awareness and to protect our planet from global warming. Global warming is the root cause of the ruin of our environment. Therefore it is our duty to protect our environment. It is also celebrated to motivate people to take positive environmental action in order to protect the nature on this planet. On this day in the year 2015, prime minister of India Narendra Modi planted a sapling at his official residence to motivate the people of India to plant more and more trees. We should stop using things that cause pollution. Because it is need for our survival and for the future generation.

Yoga Day Celebration

The word yoga is itself shining in the history of Indian culture. Derived from the Sanskrit word 'Yuj' which means to 'unite or integrate', yoga is a five thousand years old Indian practice of knowledge. Yoga is all about harmonizing the body with the mind and breath.

Considering the great advantages of yoga like weight loss, enhancing concentration, fitness, our school had been encouraging students to do yoga everyday and every class has the opportunity to get yoga class once in a week. Recently on 21st June, 2019 on the 5th International Yoga Day our school children performed various yoga forms in our school premises.

Hence, our school is trying to inculcate the traditional practice among our children. Hopefully we are going to get them as fit and fine citizens of future Indians.
